British Government Lodges Strong Protest With Russia Against Holding-up of the Malacca and Opposing Party Leaders in House of Commons Agree to Stand Together-Vladivostok Squadron on Raid.

> [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] **********

T. PETERSBURG, July 21. 10:42 a. m.-[By Atlantic Cable.] The Associated Press has just been informed that Emperor Nicholas, in an interview with Count Lamsdorff, the Foreign Minister, expressed his displeasure at the turn events had taken and at the possibility of complications with Great Britain, arising out of the detention of British ships by the Russian volunteer fleet steamers in the Red Sea. This pacific attitude, if the report be correct, will doubtless lead to an immediate and amicable adjustment of the Ambassador to Russia, this afternoon, in behalf of his government, presented a strong protest to Russia against the seizure in the Red Sea against the seizure in the Red Sea and detention of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Malacca, which was carrying 300 tons of British govern-ment stores for the naval establish-ment at Hong Kong, each case of which was marked by the broad ar-row, which is the government stamp. The Ambassador also presented a general protest against the action of the Russian volunteer fleet steamers in the Red Sea.

DARDANELLES NOT MENTIONED. DARDANELLES NOT MENTIONED.
The protest was in the form of a verbal note made in conformity with the telegraphic instructions from the British government. It does not raise the question of the passage of the Dardanelles by vessels of the voluniter fact, it being understood that Great Britain is rejuctant to open the question of the Dardanelles, and that see will not do no unless as a last resort.

Russia has reason to believe and contends that the Malacca, in addition to British government stores, had on board munitions intended for Japan. DETAINED AT PORT SAID.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS -A.M.)
PORT SAID, July 20.—The crew and passengers of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Malacca, selzed by tne Russian volunteer fleet steam St. Petersburg in the Red Sea, have been landed here. The ship is detained by the authorities, who are waiting instructions before taking further action.

The captured steamer bound for Libau on the Baltic, arrived here manned by a Russian naval captain, four officers, forty-five sailors and firemen.

Members of the Malacca's crew were declared prisoners and no com-munication with the shore was permitted. An armed guard blocks the gangway of the vessel, board no contraband articles for Japan. Her cargo of 3000 tons includes forty tons of explosives for Hongkong.

RUSSIANS LAY IN WAIT. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] PORT SAID, July 20.—It is said here that the Malacca had been spec-ially waited for by the Russians on secret information from Antwerp that she was carrying ammunition and iron work for a crane at Moji, Japan She was arrested during the morning of July 13, when two and a half mile off Great Hanish Island, near Jebeli Zullor, in spite of her captain's protest that the ammunition on board s; big turf scandal unearthed.

The Malacca arrived at Port Said The Malacca arrived at Port Said at dawn today and asked for 400 tons of coal, fresh water and provisions for Cherbourg. The case was referred to the Egyptian government, it being the first time on record that an alleged prize had been taken through the canal under a different flag. It happens that the Malacca had an abundance of coal already and was in no great need of water or provisions. Therefore she might have sailed forthwith but remains here pending instructions.

NOT CARRYING CONTRABAND. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS_A.M.)
LONDON, July 20.—The further de-tails received from Port Said today,

ST. PETERSBURG, July 20, 6:35 indicating the situation on board the p.m.—Sir Charles Hardinge, British steamer Malacca, fail to give any reasteamer Malacca, fail to give any rea-son for the seizure and only serve to inflame the British feeling. The officials of the company reiterate their denial that the Malacca was carrying contraband of war and reassert that the explosives on board were British government stores consigned to the naval commander at Hong Kong. In official circles apprehension is at the increasing excitement in the country. There is no likelihood, however, of any precipitate action.

In the meantime, and until there is direct and explicit evidence of a conravention of neutrality by the Malacci and the assumption by the Russian government of full responsibility for the action of the commanders of the Smolensk and St. Petersburg, the Brit-Smolenak and St. Petersburg, the British government, it is explained, can only ask explanations of the Russian Foreign Office regarding the nature of the charges against the seized vessel. Subsequent action necessarily vill depend on Russia's reply thereto.

TALK OF POLICING RED SEA.
The talk of policing the Red Sea
by Britsh warships meets with no support in official quarters, where it is warship would have to satisfy himself that a merchant ship desiring to conwas satisfied in this respect, then there would be no necessity for protecting the ship. If he did not receive satisfactory assurances, he would have no right to convoy the vessel.

sia's action was premeditated.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) ST. PETERSBURG, July 20., 5:20 ST. PETERSBURG, July 20., 5:20 p.m.—Russia seems prepared for any representations Great Britain may make on the subject of the stopping of ships in the Red Sea. It is understood that before sending the cruisers, the Russian authorities became satisfied through an elaborate system of esplonage that an immense amount of contraband was going from England contraband was going from England through the Red Sea to Japan and they decided to stop the traffic.

It is understood that if this traffic is now diverted to the Cape route the Russian Admiralty is prepared to send ships to the Cape of Good Hope. If Great Britain opposes the passage of the Dardanelles by more vessels of the volunteer fleet the ships intended for the cruising off the Cape may be sent from the Baltic. In this connec-tion, very important developments are believed to be imminent.

NEW YORK, July 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Former Controller Bird S. Coler, who has been one of the leaders of the Tammany fight against McCarren in Brooklyn, came out today with a savage attack upon Senator McCarren, who is chief sponsor for Parker. Following on the heels of the report that Parker and his managers had determined to restrain McCarren's powers in the campaign, so that he could not use his position as executive chairman to harass Tammany. Coler's broadside is taken as evidence that the Manhattan organization is still determined to keep up a fight "over the bridge," and, if possible, prevent McCarren's retention of the position of leader in Brooklyn.

In the course of his statement, Coler takes occasion to say that he himself is not a candidate for any office within the gift of his party. Coler says McCarren's record gives the lie to his assertion that he is fighting for autonomy, and renews the charge that he and his friends emourassed the McCallist administration by trying to make Brooklyn a "wide-open town." The principal parts of Coler's statement follow:

As a result of these inquiries, there is shown to be a hostile feeling against Russia of a strength and bitterness almost without precedent. The most conservative, who have been in the service of the government for many years, and who openly deplored the haste with which they thought Great Britain had plunged into the Transvali war, tonight frankly declared for a policy of reprisal against what is regarded as Russia's violations of treaty and piratical attack on British commerce.

The warlike tone of such papers as the Times, the Standard, the Morning Post and the Daily Telegraph, which in national criscs have hitherto almost invariably advised caution, has had its inevitable effect. There has been stirred up a storm of indignation amonog all classes in the United Kingdom, the strength of which the government itseif can hardly gauge.

Those who deplored the outbreak of the war between Japan and Rusam, and insisted publicly and privately that Great Britain, crippled financially after her South Africa' campaign, must not, at all costs, be drawn into the Far Eastern struggle, are among the most outspoken champions of a physical force that will prevent the repotition of the Malacca incident in the Red Sea.

Those few officials at the Foreign Office who are in full possession of all details of Great Britain's desire to arrive at an entente with Russia are in despair. They realise that the policy so carefully fostered by King Edward and Foreign Minister Lansdowne will now be indignantly repudiated by all parties in the House of Commons and involve with the public the downfall of any ministry advocating it.

Every nerve will be strained, however, by the Foreign Office to secure from Russia an explanation that will pacify the aggrieved feelings of the British public. However, there is expressed at the Foreign Office and elsewhere almost poignant regret that Russia, rightly or wrongly, should have taken up the position evidenciates in the Red Sea.

It is also quite evident that the cruisers which were dispatched to various points on the canal and the Red Sea were sent to those stations so that Great Britain may be ready for emergencies likely to arise in connection with the operations of the Russian volunteer freet of cruisers.

Pending the decision of the arbitration, the men will be taken back to work as rapidly as possible by the packers, and it is agreed by the packers that all the old employes are to be reinstated within forty-five days from the date work is resumed. If any of the former employes are still unemployed at the expiration of that time, such persons are to have the privilege peaceable adjustment of the trouble, and it is expected that by Friday morning everything will be in normal shape at all the plants in the different morning everything will be in normal shape at all the plants in the different in cities where the employe's were on strike. Half an hour after the decision had been reached tonight to arbitrate, President Donnelly had got into communication by long-distance telephone with the leaders of the strikers in outside cities, and had notified them that a satisfactory settlement had been reached, and directed the strikers to return to work as soon as possible.

The settlement of the difficulty by arbitration was brought about by the allied craft at the stock yards, who would have become involved in the matter had it continued much longer. The representatives of these unions, which represent about fourteen thousand men, got together yesterday and sent, a final appeal to the packers, asking for a three-sided conference today between the packers, the strikers and themselves, in a final effort to arrange some sort of agreement which would prevent the strike spreading to the affliated unions. This appeal of the allied trades unions received a favorable response from the packers and today's conference was the result. The agreement entered into between the representatives of the packers and strikers follows:

THE AGREEMENT.

"Wages and working conditions of all employes now on strike to be submitted to arbitration, each party to this agreement having the privilege of bringing before the arbitrators for decision any question of wages or conditions or any other grievance they may have, and both to abide by the decision of the arbitrators; the packing companies signing this agreement to reinstate all employes now out as fast as possible, without discrimination; employes to return to work at the wages received when going on strike pending the decision of the arbitrators; arbitrators to consist of three practical packing-house men, to be selected as follows:

The largest increase has been made in the price of the expensive cuts, porterhouse steak with mushrooms, quoted at $2.75 on Saturday now bringing $3.25. Since the beginning of the strike the price of desirable cuts in loins and ribs has jumped from 15 to 20 cents. A corresponding raise in the price of medium-grade meats falls heavily on boarding-house keepers and their families who buy the ordinary cuts of steak. The price of ham and bacon was advanced with that of the fresh meat.

After charging that the appeal misrepresented the facta, "to invoke the sympathy of outside unions and bring contributions for the strike that ended ten months ago, and has since been continued only as a secret rebellion against the State," the statement says:

"There is no destitution or suffering here. Families of the deported men are being cared for by the military and civil authorities when in need. The military claim sole right to distribute supplies under the forty-fifth article of war. Since the strike the federation is charged with murdering seventeen and crippling many men for life. Many of these were married. A benefit sum is being raised for the crippled and families of the murdered men. In a week $7000 has been raised, and it is expected that this sum will soon be increased to $25,000."

Hill is known as a "politician," all brains and absolutely no heart or conscience. Hill claims no friends, no enemies, no grudges. He betrays when he believes it will accomplish his purposes, and expects his opponents to do the same. The man who denounces him as a scoundrel and poltroon can come to him the next day and make a bargain if he can "deliver the goods" to Hill. And, as is Hill, so is his prize pupil, the Democratic anominee for President of the United States.

When Bill Tweed, the corrupt, was a the zenith of his power, Dave Hill In the renith of his power, Dave Hill was his representative in Albany. Samuel J. Tilden became a national reform hero by annihilating the Tweed ring, which had robbed New York City and State out of minions of dollars, and by sending himself to a felon's cell. Hill is hated because it is not in his nature to be true. He is ready to cut McCarren's throat any minute that he believes it is no longer profitable to stand by the race-track gambler, who betrayed Tammany and stood with Hill to name Parker the nominee. Some Democratic leaders believe that Parker will prove a greater success in Hill's peculiar political school than Hill himself, and go so far as to claim that Parker is ready to sacrifice Hill, now that Parker has the reins in his own hands and Hill is helpless to retailate.

THROWS DOWN NEWSPAPERMEN.

By no class is Hill more despised than by the newspaper men who represent the great New York papers at each assistent of the New York Legislature. When Hill was Governor, it was his custom to send for newspaper men and give out statements. If the statments were well received by the public, Hill stood for them. Hill's and Parker's political school is: "All for self, and damn the state and the people."

GORMAN FOR CHAIRMAN.
CAMPAIGN OF DUPLICITY.
IMY DIRRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, July 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] R is not unlikely that the report is true which says Senator Gorman is not seeking the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee. It is not improbable that, halting helween willingness and unwillingness, his vanity sufficiently fed by the proffer of the place and general mention of his name, the Senator would have drifted along in indecision until some one else was selected. It will not be the first time that Gorman has been steeped in dublety, and has played the role whereof timorous irresolution was the dominant quality. But Parker, Davis, the trusts et al. want Gorman, and Gorman it is almost certain to be.

But whether chosen or not, the fact that the principal Democratic lead-that the principal Democratic In the property of the place and general mich of his name, the Senator and has played the roles of mail some one clear was setted. that the principal Democratic lead-ers, the coterie which has assumed the chaperonage of Farker's can-didacy, should with one voice turn to Senator Gorman and ask him to take personal charge of the campaign is an incident not without value. The offer, viewed in connection with Sen-ator Gorman's well-known political character, may be deemed fairly illus-trative of the nature of the campaign planned by the Parker managers. anned by the Parker managers "SUBTERRANEAN."

"SUBTERRANEAN."

The name of the Maryland Senator is identified with everything that is aly, cunning, secretive and subterpanean in politics. He is reputed to be a man who prefers indirection. Born with a mole-like, burrowing quality of mind, a hatred of open places, he has confirmed his constitutional bent by many years of assiduous exercise.

Crafty and subtle, a believef in strategisms and maneuvers, a temporiser and a contriver, he has long been considered the Reynard of his party, and if he had lived in days when backstairs gifts were most heipful would doubtless have been a prime minister.

Senator Gorman, being the choice, it may be assumed that even though he should decline and go back to his Maryland home, to blanch still more his cellar bleachy, the chairman selected will be as close to the Gorman type as is possible to obtain, and will act as far as lies within his power of repression, according to the Gorman ylan. This prospect is not encouraging to those who hoped, by November, to have convinced a majority of the voters in the doubtful States that the Democratic party had discovered another Grover Cleveland. With a Gormanized campaign what hope is there of persuading the independents that the candidate is of that heroic mould which delights to lay free. She left here at 11:43 a.m. today on her way to France.

Mrs. Maybrick's imprisonment was not terminated with the clanging of the doors at Aylesbury Prison, where she spent more than fourteen years of her life. It closed before the doors of the white convent of the Sisterhood of the Epiphany in this little town, with

This is remarkable in itself, as Tammany usually swings a banner the cay after the national convention makes its nominations. Only a few district leaders have set out, panners. makes its nominations. Only a few district leaders have got out banners. Murphy is expected back in the city either tonight or tomorrow, and when he comes, the Parker leaders will try to conciliate him and get him in line for the ticket.

the black-robed sisters softly uttering their blessings and good wishes for her future.

With two companions, Mrs. Maybrick entered the carriage of Miss Dalrymple, secretary of the sisterhood, and was driven rapidly to Stausstel, a small station fourteen miles away, where, after exchanging good-bys with her companions, she boarded a train and started on her journey to France. She will not go to America until her presence there is considered imperatively necessary.

Mrs. Maybrick, who was Miss Piorence Elizabeth Chandler, a member of a well-known and prosperous southern family, was married July 27, 1881, in St.. James Church, Piccadilly, to James Maybrick of Liverpool. She was then 18 years old. Her husband was over 40 years of age.

In the spring of 1889 Maybrick became ill and in a few days he died. His brother investigated his death and charged Mrs. Maybrick with the murder of her husband, A long trial followed and a number of dectors swore that the deceased died of arsenical poisoning. The defense proved that for twenty years Maybrick had been a confirmed user of arsenic, and that he daily took doses large enough to have killed, a dozen ordinary men. Mrs. Maybrick was the died to death by the Judge, Bir Fitziumes Stephens, who spoke for two days in charging the jury. He said it was impossible for them to find her not guilty in the face of the medical evidence. The judge died some time later in a madhouse.

From the time of Mrs. Maybrick's conviction, her mother, the Baroness De Reques, was unremitting in her effects on behalf of the prisoner. She succeeded in getting her death sentence dommuted to penal servitude for life, and finally has obtained the freedom of her daughter, to whose release from prison she has devoted her life.

EFFORTS TO SECURE PREEDOM.

A similar notification was communicated to the Papal Nunciature here. The Vatican'a answer has not yet been received. It is expected that the question will be maturely considered before an answer is given. Therefore, the Council does not anticipate a determination of the issue before August. The officials incline to the belief that a rupture is inevitable, as unofficial advices from Rome indicate that the Vatican does not intend to comply with the request to withdraw the letters calling for the resignations of the bishops.

The contents of M. Delcasse's note are said to be as follows: "The French EFFORTS TO SECURE FREEDOM.

Akers-Douglas, replying to a question in the House of Commons, confirmed the reports which had been in circulation that Mrs. Maybrick had been removed from Aylesbury prison to a convalescent hom), where she would remain until the summer, when she would be allowed her freedom. The Home Secretary said a license had been granted to Mrs. Maybrick under the Penal Servitude Act.

The transfer of the prisoner from a penal prison to a quiet country home constituted an almost unprecedented act on the part of the British authorities. It was due to the mediation of the Duchess of Bedford, who, as a visitor to Aylesbury Prison for many years, had taken a keen personal interest in Mrs. Maybrick, and finally succeeded in obtaining the mitigation of her punishment to the extent of her boing allowed to spend the last six months of her confinement outside the prison walls.

The Standard is paying but 15 cents and the Associated, when necessity compels it, pays as high as 174 cents. The independent producers have been compelled to accept the low figures named, but if the plans which are now being formed are carried out the entire product will be pooled and the Standard and the Associated will find find it impossible to purchase oil either for storage or for the market at any such figure as they have been paying in the past.

It is known definitely that some of the heaviest independent producers in the field are back of the pooling project and a meeting will shortly be held at which a permanent organization will be perfected. It is expected that the combine will laier be extended to include producers in the West Side fields.

Home Wedding.

Last evening at 7:30 o'clock the nuptials of Miss Daisy Crafts, daughter of Mrs. Joanna Craig Crafts of No. 622½

South Alvarado street, and Charles Earnest Harper, were solemnized. Rev. W. S. Harper of Rediands, father of the groom, officiating. The house was beautifully decorated, pink and white sweet peas being utilized. The couple stood beneath a canopy of ferns and white satin ribbon, and an asile was formed of white satin ribbons, held by four pretty bridesmands in rainbow-hued gowns. The bride, who is a pretty blonde, wore an exquisite little frock of white satin messailne, made with train. The waist was trimmed with a bertha of Duchesse lace, and a yoke of hand work, and short fluff sleeves finished the quaint costume. Over the fair face of this girl bride fell a veil of soft tulle. She carried white Bride roses. Mrs. Thomas Wilkes was matron of honor, and wore her own wedding dress, of white chiffon over taffeta. She carried maidenhair ferns, as did all the other attendants. The four bridesmalds were Misses Theresa Galindo of Oakland. Charlotte Palme of Crafton, Mabel Harper and Genevieve Downey. The malds were attired in gowns of pastel shades, Miss Galindo wearing pink chiffon, Miss Palne green, Miss Harper blue, and Miss Downey lavender. The groom was attended by Herbert Crafts, and a dear little brown-eyed boy, all in white, Master Burton Graham Clark of San Francisco, carried the two rings on the calyx of calla lilles, tied together with a hugh bow of satin ribbon. After the service a supper was served in the dining-room, which was bright with pink sweet peas and ferns. The young couple were the recipients of many pretty girts. Immediately after the service they left for a short trip. They will make their home in Rediands, where the groom is engaged in business.

Showing What Profits -Certain Bank Shares Pay-

The several thousand Banks and Trust Companies in the U.S. last year paid their stockholders about 20 per cent. dividends. Some of the more successful ones, whose stock, at the time of their organization, was sold at par, are now quoted at, per share:

If you had been on the inside, and purchased $500 of the Fifth Avenue Bank at par—as you can now do in the "Postal Bank and Trust Co." your stock would today be worth $18,625, and would be paying you an

THE FRUIT OUTLOOK. G. H. Waters, a canner of Pomona and Ontario, says: "The apricot crop in California will be from one-third to one-half larger than that of iast year, and the Pomona Valley will make as good a showing as any place in the State. The apricots are not quite so large as last year, but are of good quality. The canneries here and at Ontario will probably handle 500 to 600 tons this season. The peach crip is short all over Southern California, but we have aiready purchased 200 tons in the velley, and for both canneries will probably double this quantity, aside from the early peaches shipped from the north."—[Chicago Packer.

DRIED FRUITS. Apricots are considered by the local jobbers as too high at the opening price established by the majority of the dryers. The crop while of small and poor fruit, is heavier than is thought by a great many people. There have been a few carloads purchased on speculative basis, but so sales have been made worth mentioning up to this time except these. Orchard run stock is held at 7½c, bag basis, at the dryers.

southern dryers who fear a scarcity of this fruit.

Santa Clara prunes are offered 2c to 24c for bag basis. No demand in a jobbing way. 40s and 50s are going to be much sought after when trade finds out how few of them are to be had.

CRANBERRY CROPS. The Amer-ican Agriculturist, in a recent issue, gives the cranberry crop outlook as fol-lows: ws:
"The lateness of the season makes
"The lateness of the season makes

"The lateness of the season makes the cranberry outlook for 1994 still somewhat a matter of conjecture. In parts of the north many new bogs have been set out. Around Ottawa county, Michigan, several hundred acres will be devoted to cranuerries, so it is claimed. Advices from Wisconsin are fairly favorable. In Wood county, vines wintered nicely. The acreage is about the same as last season, possibly a little larger. Practically all of the 1996 crop was marketed before spring set in.

"In New Jersey growers began drawing off water from the bogs about two weeks ago. It is claimed that those bogs which were not well covered by water last year were damaged greatly by the extreme cold of the past winter. Ocean and Burlington county farmers claim no new bogs of consequence will come into bearing this year. Camden county looks for an increased production, later conditions being favorable. Few sections report any 1903 berries available for market."

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET. Local ranch eggs went to 27c at yes

Local ranch eggs went to 37c at yesterday's session of the Produce Exchange. The searcity of local stocks is responsible for this advance. The price is considered firm. The position of Eastern candied did not change.

A Strange Case.

F. F. Riordan of Ninth street and Grand avenue was arrested last night by Detective Hawley, and a charge of insanity will be preferred against him. Riordan's friends complained to the police that he was acting queerly, and when taken to the station a half-dozen knives and a big Colt's revolver were found on his person. Less than ten days ago Riordan was arrested at the Plaza, where he was complaining that somebody was trying to kill him. Chief Hammel questioned the man closely and as he exhibited a pass over the Santa Fé road to San Francisco and said he was en route to that city, he was allowed to depart, but he did not leave the city. Riordan was formerly a Santa Fé employé.

CHALLENGED TO A DUEL.

CHALLENGED TO A DUEL.

A complaint was filed in the justice court here yesterday by one Gaspard Cerfolio against a countryman named Bartolomeo Pracfinea; both of Saticoy. The charge is that defendant threatened and traduced plaintiff and destroyed his peace of mind, and further challenged him to fight a duel in the town's plasa, the fight to take place on Sunday last. While the plaintiff was given the right to choose weapons—either bare fists, knives, pistola, shotguns or axes—he refused to break the law against dueling, and on a Sunday, and so caused the arrest of the challenger.
